Excerpt from the Channelling of the Sirian Dolphin Devas:

We are the Sirian Dolphin Devas – we are gathering around you in large numbers. We are bathing you in a sea of light, an ocean of light. It is flooding everything around you and within you. You may let yourself go and allow your soul to soar free, you may leave everything behind. Simply submerge, regain your energy and enjoy a time out, as you call it, from your daily routine. Allow yourself to drift, to float gently and to be lulled to sleep. In your dreams we will accompany you to a land beyond all coldness, beyond any struggle, beyond any hardness, to a land of light and lightness.

We open your senses to this world existing beyond your horizon. Go beyond this horizon with us. We will carry you. Cross the threshold. And when you cross the threshold of your everyday consciousness, it will expand and you will flow in your emotions. When your emotions turn into light, you will feel cozy and safe. You will feel accepted, uplifted, loved and embraced. You will feel embedded within the love of friends, brothers and sisters, who we are to you. You may let go, let yourself drift in the sea of emotions – as in reality emotions are like water. When your emotions are pure, gentle, harmonious, then you are able to let go; you may immerse in further dimensions of perception.
