Excerpt from the Channelling from Mother Mary:

The light of grace, that I give the Earth today, is a light that will guide you through the darkness. Think of my light of grace during your darkest hour of your soul. When your soul is covered in darkness, think of this light of grace, ignite it anew in your heart and call me, Mother Mary! In an instant I will open the doors and gates of heaven. I guarantee you: Heaven always has an answer. We illuminated beings always know a solution. There is always a way and we, the angels, will guide you.

This light of grace will give you trust: trust that you will be guided in every moment of your life. With my light in your heart, you have nothing to fear or be afraid of. I am the light in the darkness and will light your way. I am the grace in your hour of need. I am the healing force of your soul. I am the wonder of God, that rocks your heart.

My burning heart ignites your heart and ignites all of humanity today that wish to have this love. The choir of angels and all illuminated beings bless you. You are forever in our hearts, because love lasts eternally. The body will go but the soul persists and ascends. So it is, Beloved Ones.
